

In the Crosshairs, Targeted for Death

(Blog 0005 AndrewHadden.org)

I was reading David Limbaugh's book, "Guilty by Reason of Insanity: Why the Democrats Must Not Win," again at God's direction. I had just read about the vicious culture war and its assault on Christians' religious liberty and God interrupted me. I saw a vision of a view through a gun scope with crosshairs. Then I heard God say, "In the crosshairs – Christianity, my people, targeted for death – eventually. Stop them now, or die later." "That's their goal, the extinguishment of Christianity – made illegal, punished with death."

God had me read on, over several days. As I read the survey of things going on in the country, God said, "What is it doing? Undermining the nation, trying to bring collapse. Morality abandoned, science perverted, ignored, lied about – to spread perversion." "What to do? Expose it, with my help. I'll help."

Later, I was a bit overwhelmed over what God was asking of me. He then said, "What am I saying? You – expose it all. I will raise up others to deal with the evil, you don't have to do it all, just expose it all. Rely on me. I will speak, expose, tell you. Then you write and expose it. What will it involve? Much listening. Time with me, recording carefully."

May I ask your help? Please spread the warnings of what is really going on, the working of evil in the world and its eventual goal. Then please pray and ask God what else he would have you do. If no one stands up, we all perish.
